Action today, for a better future tomorrow

Newsletter note:

A little change can make a big difference, and a little action today can bring a better tomorrow. These actions don't all have to be complicated or world changing; sometimes it could be as simple as taking a little time to make your life easier in the long run.

This week we examine a few simple tips to help get you back on the road, ensuring that you not only get where you need to go, but do so for longer.

We show how through easy management of your vehicle's oils and lubrication your travel won't grind to a halt.

Going global, innovation is also in focus, with the spotlight on ways to build a better world. We also look at how a country with one of the world's largest populations, India, can think innovatively to help build the steel needed for its growing populace to not only meet demand for new houses but do so in a greener, cleaner way.

Energy company ExxonMobil is also working to build a better future by partnering with a South American plastics company to tackle the issue of discarded fishing ropes and nets, recycling them into new, durable products while cleaning the ocean of waste.

World changing innovation is a team effort as we can go further together, and by working together we can build a better future for all.
